

Master's Programs in Law

Admission Requirements for the Master's Programs in Law:

1. The student must hold a Bachelor's degree in law or its equivalent from a university recognized by the Ministry of Education - Higher Education and Scientific Research Affairs in the United Arab Emirates.
2. The student's cumulative GPA must not be less than 2.5 out of 4 or its equivalent.
3. A student with a GPA less than 2.5 but equal to or greater than 2 is allowed to join the Master's program after successfully passing the three preparatory courses with a GPA of 3 in each preparatory course. The preparatory courses are determined by the College Council at the beginning of each semester.»
4. 4.The student must obtain an English proficiency certificate (450 in TOEFL, 4.5 in IELTS, 950 in EmSAT, or equivalent).

Master's Program in Criminal Sciences:

The Master's Program in Criminal Sciences focuses on providing in-depth studies in subjects related to criminal sciences and the associated subjects of criminal justice at the national, regional, and international levels. The program includes practical applications to various criminal cases and ways to address the related issues within the scope of criminal justice

Objectives of the Master's Program in Criminal Sciences:

The program aims to achieve the following general objectives:

1. To enhance the student's ability to contribute to developing legislative texts in the United Arab Emirates in criminal sciences.
2. To analyze and explain the nature of criminalization and punishment texts and their classifications within the laws governing them.
3. To provide innovative solutions for various legal and judicial issues, both theoretically and practically, for cases presented at different local, regional, and international levels.
4. To establish a distinguished academic role for the college in criminal sciences at all scientific and academic levels, locally, regionally, and globally.
5. To advance scientific research in all branches of law related to criminal sciences and to enable students to prepare specialized research in these areas

Master's Program in Arbitration:

The Master's Program in Arbitration is a well-established scientific field that is applied in society. It focuses on providing in-depth studies on dispute resolution topics and the governing legal systems at the national, regional, and international levels. The program includes practical and applied training in commercial and investment topics and related disputes.

Objectives of the Master's Program in Arbitration

The program aims to achieve the following general objectives:

1. Prepare and qualify students in dispute resolution through amicable means and enhance their professional competence in arbitration to meet the requirements of UAE society in particular and other countries.
2. Explain the rules of resorting to arbitration as a means of dispute resolution and employ negotiation skills to end arbitration disputes.
3. Study the legal issues related to the responsibility of arbitrators, the enforcement of national and international arbitration awards, and ways to resolve them.
4. Review the legal framework for arbitration centers' operations, study their work rules and procedures, and learn the applicable laws to the disputes they consider.
5. Establish a foundation for scientific research in national and international arbitration topics and prepare research and scientific theses related to its issues, contributing to its effectiveness as a suitable means of resolving disputes in various forms.

Master's Program in Private Law

The Master's Program in Private Law focuses on providing in-depth studies in various subjects of private law, which includes a diverse range of legal studies in branches of private law (civil law, commercial law, private international law, civil procedural law, and others). Furthermore, the Master's Program in Private Law is a well-established applied scientific field that plays a significant role in the life of societies in general.

Objectives of the Master's Program in Private Law:

The program aims to achieve the following general objectives:

1. Analyzing and explaining the nature of legal facts and actions and their classifications within the private law framework.
2. Providing innovative solutions to various legal and judicial issues theoretically and practically for local, regional, and international cases.
3. Establishing a distinctive academic role for the college at all scientific and academic levels locally, regionally, and globally in private law.
4. Enhancing the student's ability to contribute to developing legislative texts in private law for the United Arab Emirates.
5. Developing scientific research in all branches of private law and enabling students to prepare specialized research.

Master's Program in Public Law:

The master's program in public law offers in-depth studies in various subjects, incorporating diverse legal studies across branches of public law (including international law, administrative law, constitutional law, criminal law, and economic and financial legislation, among others). The program also provides comprehensive studies on dispute resolution topics and the governing legal systems at the national, regional, and international levels, emphasizing the national identity of the societies studied.

Objectives of the Master's Program in Public Law

The program aims to achieve the following general objectives:

1. Enhance the student's ability to contribute to developing legislative texts in the UAE's public law field.
2. Analyze and clarify the nature of legal facts and actions and their classifications within the public law framework.
3. Provide innovative solutions to various legal and judicial problems theoretically and practically for issues presented on multiple local, regional, and international levels.
4. Create a distinguished academic role in public law for the college at all scientific and academic levels locally, regionally, and globally.
5. Develop scientific research in all branches of public law and enable students to prepare specialized research."

Master's Programs in Law

UAQU جامعة أم القيوين
Umm Al Quwain University

Call for more info
067069000

uaquuniversity

© www.uaqu.ac.ae | © Umm Al Quwain

P. O. Box: 536 Umm Al Quwain | @info@uaqu.ac.ae

